

November 4, 2005

If you are looking for a real estate agent who is going to go above and beyond what is required then Adam is the agent for you.

Adam was very enjoyable to work with. He made everything so easy and was especially helpful in finding good and reliable people for the inspections that we needed. He was always very prompt in answering our e-mails or phone calls. Buying a home can be a very stressful time, even more so when it is many hours from where you live. Adam alleviated so much of that stress by working closely with us and monitoring everything that was happening and making sure it was all done on time

We highly recommend Adam and would not hesitate to refer our family or friends to him. We look forward to keeping in touch with him in the future.

Sincerely,

Todd and Pat Freber